

Dominic Carrozza

PADI Master Scuba Diver Trainer

Dominic had his first scuba experience while on a business trip to Australia. Swimming over giant clams on the Great Barrier Reef he realized this was a sport for him. Shortly later he obtained his open water certification at Club Med in Mexico and never looked back. After gaining experience including a week long trip aboard the Belize Aggressor, he began taking additional classes to be a better diver and soon after became an instructor. His favorite class to teach is Underwater Photography having been a serious amateur photographer since high school.
